Dear Colleague:

Let this serve as a reply or request for you to learn more about the exciting and challenging veterinary position that we have available to you. If you would like an internship like experience, without the unbearable hours or low salary, then you need to explore our opportunity. We have two immaculate four year AAHA computerized small animal practices that services a clientele that expects top quality medical and surgical care. We pride ourselves on our personalized service. I have enclosed a package including a cd that provides an informative PowerPoint presentation about our facility for your perusal. We have a highly proficient, compassionate and caring staff to complement our state of the art equipment and facilities (Our Wiles Road Animal Hospital was a recent winner of the Merit Award in 2003 for Veterinary Design by the Veterinary Economics magazine.)

We are looking for an associate who is ready to be part of our team approach to veterinary care. As an appreciated client service, we do answer our own emergencies, sharing the responsibilities among a number of our veterinarians, so no one has a load that cannot be handled. Although only needing to be on call every fourth weekend and some weeknights, emergency coverage will give you the opportunity to see interesting cases, with a back up veterinarian for support and mentorship, while giving you the opportunity to earn thousands of dollars as we pay 50% of the collected emergency fees. We appreciate those professionals that demonstrate the ability to communicate with our clientele, our staff, and your fellow colleagues as to their concerns. We do have a full range of diagnostic and technical abilities including laser surgery, bronchoscopy, ultrasound, telemedicine, pulse oximetry, tonopen tonometry, dental radiography, and in-house laboratory, to name a few. Although many of our doctors enjoy and are adept at some exotic and avian care, it is not essential that you do so, but an interest in this area is a definite plus. Mentorship and the ability to learn from the eclectic group of veterinarians in our multi person practice lends to a superior learning experience. In addition to the many local continued education seminars, we bring in specialists to present lunch seminars to our veterinarians several times per year.

We are an active participant in community events and we feel someone that can get involved in our oasis sunny South Florida community has a far better chance of success and happiness within our practice. There is plenty of recreational endeavors to partake in whether it be sports, the water, music, or the arts. The beach, the Florida Keys, and the Caribbean Islands are a hop, skip, and jump away.

Our salary package is commensurate with your experiences, references, and interview. We do have referral specialists within arm's reach, and we all enjoy discussing cases. I would appreciate a letter of introduction and resume with references, if you have not done so already, in response as to your interest in our position. Our practice has expectations that you have and will take care of the necessary hurdles in obtaining your Florida Veterinary License, as well as USDA accreditation. If you have any questions do not hesitate in calling me. Looking forward to discussing our career opportunity with you.

Sincerely,

Steven G. Paul, D.V.M.
Hospital Director
